ZOE

Your birth Saturn

Saturn takes about twenty-nine and a half years to circle the sky. On the day you were born, it stood at one exact place. Each time it passes at a right angle to that place, opposite it, or comes back to it, tradition sees an appointment: a moment when life asks for something solid. It's an inspection, not a punishment.

SATURN IN ARIES · 15°07'

This return looks at how you start things: your courage, your temper, your independence. Maybe it asks you to start fewer things and finish more.

YOUR NEXT APPOINTMENT · AROUND AGE 29

The return

Saturn comes back to where it was when you were born: you rebuild, on solid ground.

Exact passes : March 18, 2027

One pass: a brief appointment. Three passes: Saturn moves forward, back, then forward again; the appointment lasts several months.

YOUR SATURN MAP

Your 8 appointments, from birth to 60

Look at the past dates first. What was happening in your life at those moments? Only you can say whether they ring true: the map just gives the dates.

	AGE	APPOINTMENT	EXACT PASSES	LENGTH
past	7	The first turn What you started gets tested: you adjust, you choose your direction.	June 25, 2004	●○○○○
past	13	The face-to-face You are halfway through the cycle: from the other shore, you see what you built and what is missing.	December 7, 2010 March 18, 2011 August 31, 2011	●●●○○
past	21	The sorting What no longer holds shows itself: you let go, travel lighter, prepare what is next.	February 2, 2019 August 8, 2019 October 27, 2019	●●●○○

Your Saturn return, in three phases

1

FEBRUARY 13, 2026 TO JANUARY 17, 2027 · you are here

The approach: noticing the cracks

Things that used to fit start to feel tight. Think of walking through your apartment before a renovation: you notice what's worn out. Maybe it's the job you took at 22. Maybe it's the city you live in "for now". Maybe it's a friendship that runs on habit.

Worth noticing: you don't have to fix anything yet. Just write down what feels tight.

- List three things you'd keep if you rebuilt your life from scratch.
- Start a note called "not anymore".
- Ask someone ten years older what they changed at 30.

2

JANUARY 17, 2027 TO MAY 17, 2027

The heart: the renovation itself

This is the dusty part, and it's temporary. Walls come down so better ones go up. Maybe you change roles, or change teams. Maybe you sign a lease, or end one. Maybe you set a rule in a relationship that should have been there from the start. One wall at a time.

Worth noticing: when everything feels like it's changing, change one thing on purpose.

- Pick one wall: the one decision you've postponed the longest.
- Put a deadline on it, and tell one person.
- Say no to one thing that only fits the old plan.

3

MAY 17, 2027 TO APRIL 12, 2028

The integration: living in the new space

The dust settles. You get to live in what you rebuilt, and it fits better than before. Maybe the new job feels like yours. Maybe home finally feels like home. Maybe you simply know what you won't do again.

Worth noticing: keep the new habits for one more season before you judge them.

- Write down what you built, in one page.
- Thank one person who helped you through it.
- Plan one thing for the next ten years.

How your map is calculated

1. We calculate Saturn's exact place at the moment you were born.
2. We search, day after day, from your birth to age 60, for the moments when Saturn stands at 90°, 180° and 0° from that place. These are facts of astronomy: the dates are right to the hour.
3. We group these passes into appointments, and split your return into three phases: the approach, the heart, the integration.

What this map does, and what it doesn't

It gives you dates, and a way to read them. It does not say what will happen and promises nothing. What you make of each appointment is yours: that is where the magic begins.
