THE ALCHIMIXE GPS GUIDE · TIMING

The right moment.

The three clocks of tradition, your calendar through April 2027, and when to act in each direction.

TO BEGIN

Sowing can be the right move, on the wrong day.

You've probably noticed it: some weeks everything opens up, and others nothing moves, whatever you do.

The ancients saw a rhythm in this. To them, time had qualities: they read the sky before sowing, setting out or building. It wasn't superstition, it was a method. When you choose your day, you stop letting chance choose it for you.

This little book gives you that method, as Antoine de Saint-Christophe's workshop passes it on: three clocks, one calendar, and how to read them together.

IF NOTHING CHANGES

What if you were right, at the wrong moment?

The three clocks keep turning, whether you look at them or not.

The good idea launched too early. The contract signed the day before everything turned. The trip put off, which fell in your best season. Acting at random costs nothing at the time; it costs months afterwards.

52	lucky days a year. Without a calendar, you pass one a week without seeing it.
3	Mercury retrograde periods in 2027, when tradition advises rereading before you sign.
1	single moment opens your year. It only comes once.

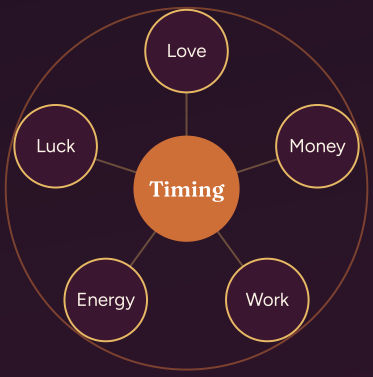

The good news

Time has qualities, and they can be read. The rest of this guide teaches you to read the three clocks.

HOW WE SEE IT

Your birth chart is your map. Alchimixe is the GPS.

Your birth chart shows what comes easily to you and where things rub: that's the map. But a map doesn't tell you when to turn. The GPS is timing: knowing when to act, in every direction of your life.

Five directions, with Timing at the center, because it serves all of them. You come in with a question, you understand through your chart, you steer with timing, and you act with the levers: a ritual set by the Moon, a birthday trip, an object from the workshop.

> We're not psychics. We promise nothing. We read the sky, and we show you how to read it yourself.

THE METHOD

Three clocks, one inside the other

Like the hands of a watch, Antoine's tradition reads time on three clocks that turn at different speeds.

The year

It starts on your birthday, not on January 1. It has its room, its ruler and its seven seasons. Pages 6 and 7.

The Moon

Every month, four windows of about a week, each with its own domain. Page 8.

The day

52 lucky days a year, days to avoid, and a few very special hours. Page 9.

> When the three clocks agree, the moment is ripe.

FIRST CLOCK · THE YEAR

The room of your year

The old astrologers saw your chart as a house with twelve rooms: one for money, one for the other person, one for your career. And every year, a clock two thousand years old, profection, moves you on by one room.

Take your age in full years and divide it by twelve: the remainder gives your room.
You come back to the Entrance at 12, 24, 36, 48 and 60. You reach the Door Opposite, the room of the other person, at 6, 18, 30, 42 and 54.

The planet that rules the room you reach becomes the ruler of the year. That's why being 42 doesn't feel like being 48.

Junctin's seven periods

In the 16th century, Junctin de Florence divided each year into seven unequal periods, later taken up by Alexandre Volguine: Saturn 85 days, Jupiter 30, Mars 36, the Sun 53, Venus 33, Mercury 57, the Moon 71. The sequence starts with the planet that rules the Ascendant of your solar return, calculated for wherever you happen to be at that moment.

FIRST CLOCK · THE YEAR

Your seven seasons of 52 days

365 days is almost exactly seven times 52. Starting from your birthday, your year splits into seven equal seasons, each with its own color and its own planet.

1 · Recognition	Sun	Get yourself seen, look for backing. You sow; you don't sign yet.
2 · Movement	Mercury	Move, try things, meet people, without long-term commitments.
3 · Energy	Venus	A strong push: bring people on board, launch whatever needs stamina.
4 · Ideas	Moon	Write, learn, prepare. Wait before buying or hiring.
5 · Great Success	Mars	Stand up for your projects, ask, negotiate, dare.
6 · Pleasure	Jupiter	The real holiday of your year. Relationships are favored.
7 · Rebuilding	Saturn	Finish, tidy up, take stock, before your birthday sets things moving again.

These seasons are not Junctin's periods: they are equal, and they start on your birthday. The two clocks are read together. Source: H. Spencer Lewis, Self Mastery and Fate with the Cycles of Life (1929).

The four Moon windows

A lunar month lasts 29 days, 12 hours and 44 minutes. Its four phases cut it into four windows of just over seven days. Gardeners have always sown by the Moon; Antoine did the same with wishes.

Yellow · vitality
From the new Moon to the first quarter. Begin, launch, restart.

Orange · love
From the first quarter to the full Moon. Connection, tenderness, making up.

Green · intelligence
From the full Moon to the last quarter. Learn, persuade, negotiate.

Red · wealth
From the last quarter to the new Moon. Foundations, whatever needs to last.

The twisted days

Avoid the three days before the new Moon, and wait three days after it before launching anything that matters.

Waxing Moon, waning Moon

The waxing Moon is for starting what should grow. The waning Moon is excellent for finishing, clearing out, leaving.

The blue days

They belong to no window and bring the other four into harmony: you can ask for anything on them, in moderation.

THIRD CLOCK · THE DAY

The Perpetual Table of Days

It never changes: the same dates come back every year. 52 lucky days, about one a week, and 37 days on which you commit to nothing important.

MONTH	LUCKY DAYS	AVOID
January	4, 19, 27, 31	3, 23
February	7, 8, 18	2, 10, 17, 22
March	3, 9, 12, 14, 16	13, 19, 23, 28
April	5, 27	10, 20, 29, 30
May	1, 2, 4, 6, 9, 14	10, 17, 20
June	3, 5, 7, 9, 12, 23	4, 20
July	2, 6, 10, 23, 30	5, 13
August	5, 7, 10, 14, 19	2, 15, 27, 31
September	6, 10, 13, 19, 30	12, 16, 22, 24
October	13, 16, 23, 31	3, 9, 27
November	3, 13, 23, 30	6, 25
December	10, 20, 29	15, 18, 31

The Egyptian days

Two a month, noted in the margins of calendars since Roman times. They only count from a precise hour. Just one of them is lucky: July 23 at 11 p.m., which many call the miracle moment of the year.

The days to avoid are a symbolic marker: they never replace an urgent medical, legal or financial decision.

THE BIG DATES

The 2027 dashboard

Mercury retrograde

Three or four times a year, Mercury seems to move backward in the sky. Tradition then advises against signing a contract, buying technical equipment or launching a campaign. It isn't an automatic disaster. But if you have the choice, why take the risk?

PERIOD	FROM	TO
Under way	Oct 24, 2026	Nov 13, 2026
1st of 2027	Feb 9	Mar 3
2nd of 2027	Jun 10	Jul 4
3rd of 2027	Oct 7	Oct 28

Eclipses

For Antoine, an eclipse holds back a wish: he never entrusted a wish to his instruments on an eclipse day, not even a partial one.

Feb 6, 2027	Annular solar eclipse
Feb 21, 2027	Penumbral lunar eclipse
Jul 18, 2027	Penumbral lunar eclipse
Aug 2, 2027	Total solar eclipse
Aug 17, 2027	Penumbral lunar eclipse

YOUR MARKERS

Your calendar through April 2027

The new Moon opens the yellow window, the full Moon opens the green one. Dates in Brussels time (CET).

MONTH	NEW MOON	FULL MOON	LUCKY DAYS	AVOID
November 2026	Nov 9	Nov 24	3, 13, 23, 30	6, 25
December 2026	Dec 9	Dec 24	10, 20, 29	15, 18, 31
January 2027	Jan 7	Jan 22	4, 19, 27, 31	3, 23
February 2027	Feb 6	Feb 21	7, 8, 18	2, 10, 17, 22
March 2027	Mar 8	Mar 22	3, 9, 12, 14, 16	13, 19, 23, 28
April 2027	Apr 7	Apr 21	5, 27	10, 20, 29, 30

Lining up the three clocks

For an important step: a lucky day, in the window that matches your wish, outside the three days before the new Moon, away from eclipses and, for a signature, outside Mercury retrograde. If it also falls in your Great Success season, the wind is at your back.

THE STEERING WHEEL

When to act in each direction

In the workshop's tradition, each direction has its own Moon window and its favorite season.

DIRECTION	WINDOW	SEASON	FOR
Love	Orange	6 · Pleasure	declaring your feelings, making up, meeting someone
Money	Red, and green for signing	5 · Great Success	laying foundations, negotiating
Work	Green	1 · Recognition, 5 · Great Success	persuading, taking an exam, getting noticed
Energy	Yellow	3 · Energy	starting, restarting, getting your drive back
Luck	Lucky days and blue days	5 · Great Success	your next step, on the day you choose

The example Antoine liked to give: declaring your love on a lucky day in the orange window, during your Pleasure season. All three clocks say yes at the same time.

Five little books, one per direction

This guide has five companions: Love, Money, Work, Energy and Luck. Each one takes its direction in detail: what your chart looks at, its gesture for the month, its markers.

ELECTIONAL ASTROLOGY

Choosing the day it all begins

Everything that begins has a birth sky: a company on the day its articles are signed, a marriage at the second of the "I do," a contract at the last signature. If every beginning has its sky, you can choose it.

> In 1559, the astrologer John Dee chose the date of Elizabeth I's coronation: January 15.
>
> She reigned for forty-four years. You can debate the role of the stars; she did not leave the start of her reign to chance.

What we look at first

1. The Moon: waxing to launch, and free rather than "void of course."
2. The ruler of the matter: Venus for a marriage, Mercury for a contract, Jupiter for money.
3. The Ascendant of the moment, set by the hour you choose.
4. Your own chart: the best day in general is not necessarily the best day for you.

The most common mistake: picking a "pretty date" (12/12, Valentine's Day) instead of a good sky. The sky doesn't read the calendar.

Your next favorable days

A first personal shortlist, calculated from your birth Moon and the table of lucky days.

A SINGLE INSTANT OPENS YOUR YEAR

Your birthday

> Did you know that a single instant rules your whole year?
> Antoine de Saint-Christophe

Once a year, the Sun returns to exactly the place it held when you were born, to the second: this is your solar return. It shifts by about six hours each year, and sometimes falls the day before or the day after your calendar birthday.

At that second, the sign rising on the horizon becomes the Ascendant of your year. It depends on where you are: in Brussels, Moscow or Rio, it isn't the same. That's the idea behind the birthday trip: choosing the city where your year begins. Only one chance a year, Antoine insisted.

The Deutz ritual

1. In the days before, write down one wish you can realistically reach within the year. One sentence.
2. At the moment of your birthday, place a hibiscus flower in a champagne coupe, then pour a rosé champagne (Antoine named the rosé cuvée of the Deutz house).
3. Raise your glass, say your wish as something already on its way, and drink.

A STORY FROM THE WORKSHOP

The sower of lucky days

In Antoine's archives, there is one sentence he copied at the bottom of every timetable he drew up. It comes from a very old text whose author no one remembers:

> He sowed nothing and transplanted nothing except on lucky days, and everything went well for him.
> From a very old text

Antoine made this farmer a model. Not a model of superstition: a model of method. His advice fits on one line: write the 52 lucky days in your calendar today, then keep them for what matters.

Signing a lease. Launching a project. Asking for a meeting. Deciding on the thing you've put off for too long. Meeting someone important. And sowing, in every sense of the word.

The sky doesn't decide for you. It shows you when the ground slopes gently your way.
